Why Advertise with SmartBrief

We have some of the highest click-through rates in our newsletters' respective industries and can drive results for your business.

FIRST PARTY DATA

Unlike other platforms that rely on purchased third party data sources, Smartbrief only leverages data that it's collected from users directly. This means we won't make incorrect assumptions about user characteristics, and you're guaranteed to reach the demographics you wish to target.

HIGHLY ENGAGED AUDIENCES

Through partnering with associations, we have access to the most ambitious professionals within their chosen fields. A person who joins an association, pays their member dues and attends conferences is someone focused on professional development and more likely to be engaged.

PREMIUM EDITORIAL CONTENT

SmartBrief boasts some of the highest open and click rates in the industry. That's because we employ human editors to create and curate each day's news. For many of our users, the SmartBrief newsletter is the first email they open every morning and is their go-to source for industry developments.

PERSONALIZED SUPPORT

With SmartBrief, you're not going onto a self-service ad buying portal and hoping for the best. You're working with a dedicated individual who's helping you achieve the goals of your campaign. Our team members will work with you directly to optimize your ad content so that it's likely to appeal to our readers.

PROVEN ROI

Moving past impressions and clicks, SmartBrief's reporting and dedicated account support provides in-depth data on companies and titles to show you how the audience engages with your content. We are committed to providing you with optimal performance and campaign insight.
